About the Film

Written by Bibhuti Bhusan Bandyopadhyay of 'Pather Panchali' fame, the story of AALO tries to showcase rural India.

The film has some captivating Tagore songs from Rabindranath Tagore's collections.

Synopsis

The story revolves around Aalo, a city-bred girl from a highly cultured family, who migrates to a faraway backward village after her marriage. The people she encounters here, particularly the womenfolk, are poverty-stricken, superstitious, narrow-minded and, at times, cruel. This is the story about how Aalo succeeds in removing their backwardness - both mental and cultural.

Director's Profile

Four times National Award winner and a recipient of 'Padma Shri' award from the President of India, Tarun Majumder chooses his themes which are close to the soil and the people of his country and expresses them in a simple-looking manner although the mechanism, at times, may be highly complex.
